PROSPECTUS.

FEW of those who are engaged in historical or genealogical researches are unacquainted with the important series of the Public Records entitled the Great Rolls of the Exchequer, or, as they are more commonly designated, the Pipe Rolls. For a period of nearly half a century, at a date beyond legal memory, these splendid Enrolments stand alone in the National Archives, and, should any mishap occur to those that are not printed, the reigns of Henry II. and Richard I. would be rendered almost a blank so far as record evidence is concerned. It has long been felt that an effort should be made, without further delay, to multiply copies of, at least, the earliest of these unique Rolls by means of the Press, and thus place the large amount of unknown historical, genealogical, and topographical material afforded by them beyond the possibility of destruction or loss. As an outcome of this feeling, the Pipe Roll Society has sprung into existence.

Already, early in the present century, a scheme to print illustrative specimens of all the most important series of public documents was commenced by the late Record Commission, and continued under the direction of Lord Langdale, the first statutory Keeper of the Public Records. Among the works issued in furtherance of this scheme were four volumes dealing with the following Pipe Rolls:—

1. The Roll variously assigned by Prynne to the Eighteenth year of Henry I.; by Sir Simonds d'Ewes to the Fifth year of King Stephen; by an old official endorsement to the First year of Henry II.; and in modern days, by Hunter, its only Editor, to the Thirty-first year of the reign of Henry I.
2. The Rolls for the Second, Third, and Fourth years of Henry II.
3. The Roll for the First year of Richard I.
4. The Roll for the Third year of King John. This was printed from the Chancellor's antigraph.

These Rolls are carefully facsimiled in record-type, and are the only ones that have hitherto been made public in their entirety. Thus, it will be observed that a very wide gap exists in these Record Publications; and it will be the primary object of the Pipe Roll Society to fill up this chasm between A.D. 1157 and A.D. 1189. This can be readily carried out by printing the thirty Rolls—in almost perfect condition—which are still extant for the period. The excellence of the Record editions of the Pipe

Rolls cannot be overrated, and it is proposed by the Committee of the Pipe Roll Society to follow the original design of the Record Commission in every particular, in the hope that, with close attention to minute details, the Rolls to be issued in the future may come up to the high standard of excellence illustrated in these publications.

The works of the Record Commission are not to be obtained now without much difficulty, the issue having been limited, and the demand for them of late years very great. For the information, therefore, of those not possessing copies of the Pipe Rolls already printed, or who, indeed, may never have seen them, it will be as well to explain that in these editions nothing is essayed to be produced beyond what actually appears upon the Rolls. It was assumed that those who consulted them would be sufficiently acquainted with the abbreviations which occur in these Records to enable them to read their contents with facility. This, however, is found in practice to be not always the case, and, to assist the uninitiated in mastering the contractions, the Society intends to issue an explanatory List of all the abbreviations commonly used in the early Pipe Rolls, so that every reader will be in a position to extend with ease and certainty all ordinary passages in these Rolls. In addition to this, any information that can be supplied with regard to obscure or doubtful portions of the text will appear in foot-notes, or be added in an appendix; but no notes beyond those absolutely required by the exigencies of the manuscript will be allowed in the Society's publications.

In a limited Prospectus it would be impossible to bring into prominence all the various subjects illustrated in these fine documents. It may, however, not be out of place to give here a short extract from Mr. Hunter's Preface to the Roll which he assigns to the Thirty-first year of Henry I. His authority second to none on the question of the value of these manuscripts, and it is these terms that he expresses his deliberate opinion on the subject:—

"These rolls are the most important of the Records of the Court of Exchequer. They contain the accompts of the King's revenue, year by year, as they were made up with the King's Officers appointed to that service, by the Sheriffs of the counties who acted as the King's Bailiffs, and by other Ministers and Debtors of the Crown. And, since payments by the King were also often made through the hands of the Sheriffs and other Ministers in the different counties, we obtain through these accompts a view of no inconsiderable portion of the royal expenditure in a long tract of time, by which a clear and valuable light is thrown on many subjects, and sometimes on the most important public transactions of the realm. Madox, a man who was intimately acquainted with the whole treasure of the national records, speaks of these rolls in his Letter to Lord Somers, as being—'Recorda, omnium quæ in archivis Regis usquam vidisse me memini, antidissima; post Rotulum Censualem quem Librum Domesday vocant; quin ei disparanda.'—In forming, however, an opinion of their value so exalted as this, he is not be understood to speak of the whole series; not of a single roll, which may be contemplated alone; and regard must have been had to their character as legal evidence, affecting many important rights and franchises; to the use which may be made of them in historical investigations, and more particularly in such investigations when they are directed to points of constitutional or legal history; to the bearing of the information which they contain on the state of society in England, and its changes through successive centuries; and finally to the remoteness of the period at which the series commences."

It is more particularly with this remote period that the Pipe Roll Society proposes to deal. Broadly speaking, however, the Society's scheme includes all unprinted national records that are extant, prior to the year A.D. 1200. Unfortunately, the solitary class of Pipe Rolls, practically, represents this period, but the very limited number of odd membranes of the class known as the Rotuli Curiæ Regis of the reign of Richard I. will form a valuable supplement to our information with regard to this dark period of history; and the publication of these and a few other early odds and ends may very appropriately terminate the labours of the Society. The Members of the Pipe Roll Society will then have the satisfaction of knowing that they have made accessible to the historical student every scrap of manuscript material extant in the Public Record Office to the end of the twelfth century.

From the preceding statement it will be seen that the work which the Society will undertake is strictly limited in scope, and, should it receive the support which—taking into consideration the great value of the material now to be made public for the first time—may reasonably be looked for, the project should certainly be completed within quite a reasonable period. There is, therefore, every probability that for a very moderate number of annual subscriptions Members will be able to place on their shelves the finished result of this scheme; and they will, moreover, provide themselves, not only with a series of most instructive volumes, but with an investment which will certainly become of permanent and increasing value.

The subscription to the Society is fixed at One Guinea per annum, due in advance on the first day of June in every year, and will be received by the Honorary Treasurer, WALFORD D. SELBY, Esq., Public Record Office, Fetter Lane, E.C., or, in the case of Public Libraries, may be paid to the credit of the Society at their Bankers, the London and Westminster Bank, Temple Bar Branch, 217, Strand. For this sum Members will receive, if the subscriptions are sufficiently numerous, at least two volumes annually. But the number of volumes issued must, of course, be regulated by the funds subscribed.

No volumes for the year will be delivered until the subscription has been paid.

Applications for admission to the Society should be addressed to JAMES GREENSTREET, Esq., Honorary Secretary, 16, Montpelier Road, Peckham, S.E.

PREFACE.

The Roll, which is printed verbatim et literatim in this volume, stands fifth in the series of Pipe Rolls now preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. It belongs to the fifth year of King Henry the Second [A.D. 1158–59], as appears from a contemporary endorsement on the second rotulet, thus: Qvint^{o} ann^{o} H. sc̃di.

The Pipe Rolls of a date earlier than the one now printed are:—

1. The Roll of uncertain date; but assigned by Hunter, its Editor, to the 31st year of the reign of King Henry I., A.D. 1130–31.
2. The Roll of the Second year of King Henry II., A.D. 1155–56.
3. The Roll of the Third year of King Henry II., A.D. 1156–57.
4. The Roll of the Fourth year of King Henry II., A.D. 1157–58.

These were printed in two volumes under the care of the Rev. Joseph Hunter, an Assistant Keeper of the Public Records, and are included among the octavo publications of the late Record Commission.

The printing of these earlier Rolls was commenced under the direction of the Commissioners of the Public Records of the Kingdom in 1831. The first volume was issued in 1833, but the work was then for some time suspended, and the second volume, containing the Rolls of the second, third, and fourth years of Henry II., was not published until the year 1844, when Lord Langdale was Master of the Rolls. At that date the original design was left incomplete, and no further attempt, except the present one, has been made to continue the scheme.

There now remain twenty-nine unprinted Rolls of the reign of Henry the Second, which will supply the principal material to be dealt with in the future publications of the Pipe Roll Society.
